Members of the Mid-Week club of one of their pleasant gatherings yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. C. Whitthorne had arranged two tables for pivot auction in the dining room, where poinsettias effectively used as a decoration.
H. F. Lecks and Mrs. Herbert made top scores at their respective tables and were awarded the smart handkerchiefs. Candy was served during the game.

Merely Drippings From The Thought Tank By THORN

Those Pythian Sisters.

Last evening I was out To give the County Fair The ordinary once over And the twice up and down, And I was meditating As I was sauntering erlong (That "sauntering" sounds good), When someone said: "Hot Dawg!" And when I calmed myself And commenced to think and wonder Who was calling me names, tending the Putnam County Fair.

—Mrs. David Gautier, of Crescent City, is a visitor here today.

—Mrs. R. W. Coleman, Miss Roberta Morrison and Mrs. Morrison will return today from a short stay in Sanford.

—Miss Mary Billings, of Hastings, was a visitor here Monday.

There were three giggling girls Pointing at muh pompadour. Then they said: "Hot dawg" again. But afterwards they became nicer, And explained that they were Sisters of some Pythians—

And I'm telling the congregation That this "sister" business Is always captivating to me. I've passed lots of girls off As my "sister" when I had to.

But these said they were Real, honest-to-goodness Sisters; Said they didn't actually Have to sell hot dogs

(They were selling them then) But they wanted some mazuma For their lodge treasury.

One of 'em asked me Which I liked best; "Dogs" or "cats?"

So I presume by that They were selling both kinds. But if I'd said "Rats," Or else they'd have jumped On top of the counter

And kinder scrooched down a bit. You know how Sisters feel About rats, don't you?

Still, some of them iowadays Are wearing them, I understand. You can generally tell it When you stop and think back

Just a few weeks When hair bobbing was au fait. Well, anyway, these Sisters Want trade all the week

On "H-o-t D-a-w-g-s." And I'll say what they sell Are just as good dogs and nice dogs As ever swam ashore!

Yassum. I thank you.
